TRAVEL PLANS

A travel plan is a package of measures tailored to the needs of an organisation and is aimed at promoting greener, cleaner travel choices to staff, visitors and customers alike, thereby reducing reliance on the private car.

Although the implementation of a travel plan is often a condition of the planning consent for a new development, travel planning measures have also been implemented at a range of existing sites to support staff and customers in their use of more sustainable means of transport in an attempt to reduce traffic congestion.

Transport & Travel Research Ltd has been actively working with management and staff, producing and implementing travel plans since the earliest studies in the mid 1990s. TTR consultants are part of the national team of site specific travel plan advisors set up by the Department for Transport.

We offer a high quality service tailored to the specific needs of our clients:

- Active consultation with management, staff and unions.
- Staff, visitor and business travel surveys.
- Travel behaviour analysis.

- Site based accessibility analyses using GIS tools.
- Liaison with transport operators, developers, local authorities and other stakeholders.
- Assessment of business related transport provision on-site.
